

Set 1912 but first performed 1945...

J B Priestley (socialist)

If men will not learn, they will be taught

Society is broken

We often do with the young ones. They're more impressionable

We have to share something. If there's nothing else, we'll have to share our guilt

We are members of one body

You think young women ought to be protected?

A chain of events

We'll try to understand why it had to happen

It's better to ask for the earth than take it

An Inspector Calls

Act 1: Mr Birling's Speech
Inspector Arrives * Sheila confesses
Eva Smith is Daisy Renton
Act 2: Gerald's Affair
Mrs Birling Cornered
Eric Enters

She was very pretty...I couldn't feel sorry for her

"behaving like a hysterical child"

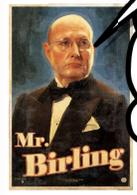

I did nothing I'm ashamed of

DENIED

She had only herself to blame

I don't believe it. I won't believe it

You don't know what some of these boys get up to nowadays

"hard-headed practical man"

Everything's all right now... What about this ring?

It's my duty to keep labour costs down

"wonderful fairy prince"

You're not the kind of father a chap could go to

It didn't seem anything very terrible at the time

You and I aren't the same people who sat down to dinner

You're beginning all over again to pretend...

"furious temper"

Hard faced prostitutes

Music halls - notorious

Different worlds

She didn't blame me...

I was in that state when a chap easily turns nasty

He was our inspector all right

"used her...as if she was an animal, a thing"

"manly well-bred"

"half shy, half assertive"

"she had a lot to say - far too much"

"wasn't the usual sort"

"A bit out of the ordinary"

"Girls of that class"

She died in misery and agony hating life

"cheap labour"

Labour strikes

One Eva Smith is gone - but there are millions and millions...left with us.

"young and fresh"

Each of you helped to kill her. Remember that.

"rotten story"
